Dear Friends:

Please accept my warmest greetings as you join with the Chinese-American Planning Council (CPC) to celebrate its Lunar New Year Virtual Benefit. During these challenging times, it is my pleasure to take a moment to recognize the incredible work of CPC, its Board, staff, volunteers and this year's outstanding honoree.

Since its founding, the Chinese-American Planning Council has remained an indispensable organization in the community. CPC has dedicated itself to improving the social, political, and economic standing of Chinese-Americans in and around New York City. Designated as one of the city's first social service agency to serve Chinese-Americans, CPC has since expanded to address the needs of immigrant and low-income communities. I applaud the Chinese-American Planning Council for providing a myriad of services ranging from immigration assistance, medical assistance, and recreational activities to empower and assist its members, especially during this past year.

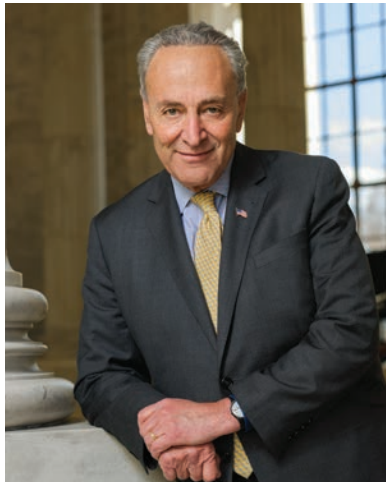

Moreover, I would like to take this opportunity to spotlight tonight's distinguished honoree: Tony Xu, Chief Executive Officer and Co-founder of DoorDash. I am pleased to join you all in recognizing this exceptional individual for his many achievements. His generosity and passionate commitment to connecting and supporting communities is an inspiration to us all.

On behalf of all New Yorkers, I sincerely thank the Chinese-American Planning Council and this year's honoree for all that they do. It is my hope that CPC will continue to serve our community for many more years to come. Best wishes for a wonderful event and please stay safe.

Sincerely,

Dear Friends,

It is a privilege to send greetings to everyone joining the Chinese-American Planning Council's Lunar New Year Virtual Benefit. I hope that this Year of the Ox brings us all prosperous opportunities, health, and happiness.

I am grateful for organizations like the Chinese-American Planning Council for their commitment to improving the welfare of our community. Since its inception in 1965, Chinese-American Planning Council has provided vital services to immigrants and low-income, vulnerable New Yorkers. It is my sincere hope that your continued work inspires others to become involved in community development.

Our diversity is what makes New York so strong and vibrant, and I am proud to represent each of you in the United States Senate. Congratulations to tonight's honorees on their well-deserved recognition.

Please accept my best wishes for a wonderful Lunar New Year celebration and many more years of continued success.

Sincerely,

Dear Chinese-American Planning Council:

I am pleased to extend my warmest greetings to all gathered at the Chinese-American Planning Council's Lunar New Year Virtual Benefit Event!

Founded in 1965, the Chinese-American Planning Council (CPC) has worked tirelessly to empower the Chinese-American, immigrant, and low-income communities. CPC continues its important work through more than 50 programs at over 30 sites throughout New York City. These programs include early childhood education, youth services, workforce development, senior services, and many more. With over 700 staff members, CPC is able to serve more than 60,000 community members each year through these enriching services and programs.

I am delighted to extend my congratulations to this year's virtual benefit honoree, Tony Xu. Tony's work transforming local businesses and encouraging businesses to help during the COVID-19 pandemic have been helpful to many New Yorkers.

Please accept my best wishes for a wonderful celebration, Happy Year of the Ox, and much success for the future!

Dear Friends:

It is a pleasure to send greetings to everyone participating in this Lunar New Year Benefit Event of the Chinese-American Planning Council (CPC), being held in a virtual setting.

As the early epicenter of the COVID-19 pandemic, this past year has been especially difficult and demanding for New Yorkers. Yet, nowhere is human strength and spirit more visible than among our many communities that inspire us through their example of unity during this global health crisis.

Since 1965, the CPC has grown into one of the largest nonprofit providers of educational, social, and community services for Asian Americans in the United States. Through its network of organizations in the metropolitan area, the CPC provides life-enhancing resources to poor, needy families and persons of all ages, along with immigrants from China and other countries of Asia.

The Lunar New Year is one of the most culturally significant and joyful celebrations shared by worldwide Asian and Pacific Islander communities. While these challenging times ask each of us to exercise safety and respect through social distancing, technology allows you to come together in online events, like this. We commend the CPC for setting this virtual stage that invites your members to continue a tradition which supports their valuable philanthropic work.

You also take this opportunity to honor those who contribute to your community in positive ways, and we join in congratulating Tony Xu, CEO and Co-founder of DoorDash. All New Yorkers welcome the arrival of Lunar New Year 4719, "The Year of the Ox," as families and friends give thanks and offer hopes for good health, happiness, and prosperity.

Best wishes for a peaceful and successful New Year.

Sincerely,

Dear Friends:

It is truly a pleasure to have this opportunity to extend my most heartfelt greetings to everyone taking part in the Chinese-American Planning Council's Annual Lunar New Year Gala. Regardless of the means by which you are connecting with each other this year, your participation supports CPC's mission to empower the Chinese-American community.

Established in 1965, CPC has worked tirelessly to foster positive social change for Asian-Americans, as well as immigrant and low-income communities throughout New York City. By improving access to resources and opportunities, CPC helps those it serves to flourish and succeed. Today, CPC is the nation's largest Asian-American social services organization, providing assistance to more than 60,000 individuals and families. Through a wide range of services focusing on family, education, career, and community; CPC empowers New Yorkers to become agents of positive change not only in their own lives, but within their communities. I commend this important work.

I would also like to take this opportunity to join you in recognizing tonight's honoree, Tony Xu. You can be proud that your efforts to provide care and assistance throughout the COVID-19 pandemic are being recognized by such a venerable organization.

Once again, congratulations on tonight's celebration. I am sure it will be a memorable occasion. I wish you all a very happy new year and much continued success. Stay safe and healthy!

Warmest Regards.

Dear Friends:

Greetings to all those gathered this evening for the Lunar New Year Virtual Benefit hosted by the Chinese-American Planning Council. Since 1965, CPC has worked to empower Chinese American, immigrant and low-income New Yorkers, ensuring they have equal access to the resources and opportunities they need to succeed.

Congratulations are due to this year's honoree: Tony Xu, CEO and Co-Founder, DoorDash, Honoree of the Year. His outstanding leadership, service and accomplishments are truly worthy of your recognition.

One of the largest Asian-American nonprofits in the country, the Chinese-American Planning Council operates over 50 high-quality programs in Manhattan, Brooklyn and Queens. Serving over 60,000 people a year, CPC provides a comprehensive range of programs, including: after-school education, meals and activities at the group's senior centers and adult English language classes. During the COVID-19 pandemic, CPC's Home Attendant Program workers have continued providing care to vulnerable community members in need. The dedicated officers, board, staff and supporters of the Chinese-American Planning Council are honoring cherished traditions, and building a brighter future for all.

Best wishes for a joyful celebration and continued success.

Dear Friends,

I am delighted to have this opportunity to welcome you to the Chinese-American Planning Council's Lunar New Year Virtual Benefit. It is my honor to be part of this celebration as we enter the year 4719, and the Year of the Ox.

I extend my gratitude and congratulations in recognizing this year's outstanding honoree; Tony Xu, Chief Executive Officer & Co-Founder of DoorDash. Tony has been an extraordinary member of the community and has revolutionized the food and delivery business. His dedicated and commitment to help small business owners succeed has been extraordinary, especially in this climate of COVID-19.

This special occasion would not have been possible without your support, so I appreciate your participation this evening. The Chinese-American Planning Council is well-served by your involvement and I thank you all for making a difference in the Chinese-American community and New York State.

Friends:

Welcome to the Chinese-American Planning Council (CPC) Lunar New Year Virtual Benefit.

The Chinese-American Planning Council (CPC) is a social services organization that creates positive social change. Founded in 1965, CPC is the nation's largest Asian American social services organization, which aims to promote the social and economic empowerment of Chinese American, immigrant and low-income communities of New York City. You can all be proud of your partnership with and work you've done for individuals and families striving to achieve goals in their education, families, communities and careers.

I would like to extend my most sincere congratulations to this year's honoree: Mr. Tony Xu, DoorDash CEO and co-founder. Born in China, Mr. Xu came to America with his parents, growing up working in his mother's restaurant. And in the fashion of the American dream, he helped create DoorDash to help other small business owners succeed. May his efforts stand as an example for others to emulate. I join with his friends and family in saluting him for a job well done.

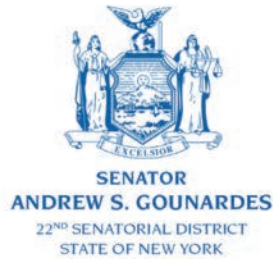

Again, congratulations to tonight's honoree and best wishes to CPC for your continued success.

Dear Friends,

It is with great pleasure that I extend my warmest greetings on the occasion of the Chinese-American Planning Council's (CPC) 56th Annual Lunar New Year Celebration. I hope you will join us tonight in celebrating the many wonderful accomplishments of a lasting pillar of our community.

Since its inception in 1965, CPC has remained dedicated to its mission of serving others, with a particular focus on the low-income, immigrant, and Chinese-American members of our community. It has grown to become one of the largest providers of social and educational services, particularly to the Asian-American community, in our country, and its many programs and initiatives have had an immeasurably positive impact on countless lives, including many of our children, youth, and elderly. I would also like to take this opportunity to recognize CPC's honoree of the year: Tony Xu, CEO & Co-Founder of Doordash.

On behalf of the New York State Assembly, I congratulate the Chinese-American Planning Council on over fifty-six years of service to our city, state, and country, and offer my best wishes for a successful evening.

Dear friends at the Chinese-American Planning Council,

I am honored to mark the Chinese-American Planning Council's Lunar New Year celebrations. Though we begin a socially-distanced Year of the Ox, our celebrations nevertheless offer a chance to join together as a community and share this special time with those we love.

CPC was founded in 1965 and has been providing communities throughout New York City with vital resources and programming. This has never been more important, as our community struggles with a disturbing rise in anti-Asian hate crimes that was underway even before the onset of coronavirus.

CPC has done so much to bring a spirit of pride to our city, and I am proud to stand with them in this Lunar New Year. I extend my warmest congratulations to this year's Honoree of the Year, Tony Xu, as well as to everyone involved in producing this wonderful event.

Once again, I commend CPC for another successful Annual Lunar New Year Celebration, and offer my sincere thanks for all of their efforts to ensure Chinese-American communities in our city have access to critical services. I look forward to marking many more years of CPC's accomplishment.

Dear Friends:

Congratulations to the Chinese-American Planning Council on the occasion of your Annual Lunar New Year Benefit! I am delighted to have this opportunity to send my warmest greetings as you all virtually gather in celebration of the Year of the Ox.

For decades, CPC has been a strong voice for Chinese Americans, immigrant, and low-income communities, advocating on issues concerning children, seniors, and our developing workforce. Your commitment through programs and projects such as the Nan Shan Senior Center, the Queens School-Age Child Care Center, and the new Queens Community Center are major assets to the community. I hope that CPC will continue to empower individuals by providing critical resources and assistance.

I want to congratulate this year's honoree, Tony Xu, and recognize Mr. Wayne Ho for his strong leadership as President and CEO of the organization, as well as the CPC board, staff, and volunteers for their dedication and hard work.

Again, congratulations to everyone involved in another wonderful year with Chinese-American Planning Council! It is my sincere hope that we can gather in-person for next year's celebration.

Dear Friends:

I am delighted to welcome everyone as the Chinese-American Planning Council hosts its Lunar New Year Virtual Benefit.

Established in 1965, CPC is guided by its mission to provide a variety of social services to Chinese Americans, immigrants, and low-income families across New York City. In response to the COVID-19 pandemic, this wonderful organization has distributed protective equipment to slow the spread of the coronavirus and assisted New Yorkers facing financial hardship and food insecurity, while also promoting participation in the 2020 Census and taking action to address a rise in hate crimes and discrimination. Tonight's event is an opportunity to support its vital programs and recognize the tremendous contributions of essential workers powering the five boroughs during this difficult time. As you gather online to welcome the year 4719, I applaud everyone associated with the Council for their efforts to uplift our vital Chinese community and give back to our great city as we work to rebuild and recover from this unprecedented crisis. Together, we will grow stronger and more united.

On behalf of the City of New York, congratulations to tonight's honoree, Tony Xu. May the Year of the Ox bring you all great health, happiness, and continued success.

To the Chinese-American Planning Council (CPC),

On behalf of the City of New York, I would like to offer you my congratulations as you celebrate the CPC's annual Lunar New Year Virtual Benefit. The CPC has been dedicated to mobilizing resources to improve the quality of life for Chinese American, immigrant, and low-income communities of New York City for more than fifty years. While we cannot gather in person to celebrate and support your work this year, I want to extend my thanks for all that you have done and continue to do amid the challenges of the COVID-19 pandemic.

I would also like to congratulate this year's Honoree, Tony Xu, Chief Executive Officer & Co-Founder, DoorDash.

Community organizations like the CPC are vital in promoting unity and advancing common purpose. Your mission to realize the vision of developing a harmonious and civil-minded community is laudable, and your successes are admirable and appreciated. Now, amid the pandemic, it is perhaps even more crucial. May you celebrate today and continue that essential work tomorrow. Congratulations, and I wish you success for many years to come.

In our experience, one asset has weathered all markets: Trust.

Equities, fixed income investments, alternatives—every asset has its strength—but all are stronger when you trust the company managing them. For more than twenty years, we've taken a steady, rock-solid approach to investing that has helped solidify trust with our clients. It's an approach deeply rooted in relationships—where the opportunities we present to our clients always have their best interest at heart. And it's one of the reasons we now have more than $600 billion in AUM. Trust is an intangible asset that continues to set New York Life Investments apart and continues to navigate all markets.
