

Remembering

As CPC continues to grow and provide services for thousands of community members a year, it is important to remember the individuals who, indirectly or directly, contributed to our success. Thanks to these individuals hundreds of thousands of new immigrants have found resources necessary to improve their lives and contribute to the growth of New York City and our nation.

Indirectly: JFK, MLK, and LBJ, all of whom are more than just initials, stirred America's conscience and provided leadership to allow organizations like CPC to emerge and grow.

Past Board Members: Mary Gartland, Principal; Dr. Gloria Chung, M.D.; Frank D'Amico, Principal; Emma Delong Mills, Board Chair and friend of Madam Cheng Kai Shek; Ed Wong, retired businessman; Man She Yen, social worker and community activist; Lucy Lee, teacher; Raymond Irving Chin, attorney; Raymond Wu, fmr. Board President and businessman; Gerald Wen, fmr. UN staff member; Olga Tong; Doris Wannerstrom; Mo Kee, seaman, program participant and fmr. President of Open Door Senior Center Advisory Board; and Mr. Chen, fmr. President of Open Door Senior Center Advisory Board

Early Funders: Norman Lau Kee, one of our long term supporters, George and Betty Merc and Brooke Astor.

Former Staff: Samson Kwok; Aaron Young; Phil Ozeki; Tom Fitz Patrick, the organization's first full time accountant; Alice Lee, Lily Liu and Dr. Cecilia Li, PhD, all past Daycare Directors; and Fay Chiang who was an outreach worker at Project Reach.

Community Leaders: Dr. Herbert Kee, M.D., who was a lifelong supporter and district leader; Bong Yu, who was a community developer; Bert Beck, fmr. MYF and Henry Street Executive Director; Al Lopez, a community worker; Frank Modica, fmr. Hamilton Madison House Executive Director; and Joe Cadden, fmr. HMH Board member and political strategist.
